ANNUAL BALL AND COURT MARKS BAY ST. LOUIS 7TH. CARNIVAL

Miss Margaret Green as Queen and Mr. John Festerling As King Reign Over Event and Scenes Never to Be Forgotten—Miss Green Queenly in All Ecstasies of Native Loveliness, Heightened by Exquisite Robes and Splendor of Majestic Mantel and Crown—"Every Inch a Queen."

Failure of engravers to deliver plates on time, pictures of their majesties, the king and queen of Bay St. Louis Carnival, are precluded from this edition of The Echo. However, the pictures will appear next week. The Echo regrets this exceedingly.

The Seventh Annual Carnival Ball sponsored by the Parents Club of St. Joseph Academy was held in the auditorium on Friday, February 2nd with one of the largest crowds ever witnessing a ball present.

A stage setting depicting the porch and garden of an ante-bellum home with wide spreading lawn of green, flanked by trees, and trailing vines of the porch and blossoming peach trees on the other presented one of the most beautiful settings ever seen here. Before a colonial doorway were two large urns, and at the edge of the porch, a hedge of boxwood grew with two urns containing small evergreen trees placed on either side of the steps. The wide-spreading terrace with ivy grown entirely over it continued over the edge of the stage, at each end of which was a beautiful old-fashioned nickel and glass lamp, mounted on post, and from which a soft glow burned. Just before the terraced steps, an electrically operated fountain, with graceful ivy trailing from it, and water through which colors played completed the beautiful garden effect.

At the stroke of 8:30, the first of the twenty maids entered from doorway at the end of the porch and was met at the foot of the staircase by the duke, and they took their place and awaited the coming of their majesties. Strolling about the stage in picturesque costumes gathering flowers were Mrs. Peter Borge and Mrs. Elsie Mae Smith.

At the sound of the heralds trumpet, Miss Jane Juden, 1939's lovely Carnival Queen, escorted by her king, Daniel J. Russell, entered and assumed their places on the stage. Miss Juden was attired in a gown of white net with bouffant skirt and bodice of silver sequins and carried a large arm bouquet of Talisman roses.

To the acclaim of the throng gathered in the auditorium, the queen, Miss Margaret Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Green, Sr., entered with Mr. George R. Rea, and was escorted to meet her king, Mr. John Festerling, and was presented with an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses. Their majesties greeted their subjects and then were seated on two pretty garden benches in keeping with the rest of the scene.

Miss Green, one of the most attractive girls in Bay St. Louis, was lovely in a gown of white satin trimmed in rhine stones, with hoop skirt, and with a silver and rhine stone crown, worn with a mantle of red velvet studded in colored stones and lines in white.

The three little train bearers wearing pretty old-fashioned net dresses were Beverly Ann Favre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Favre and two nieces of Miss Green, Mary Jane and Margaret Green.

The grand march was played by the St. Stanislaus College Band and presented a gorgeous scene of hand-some dukes and beautiful maids and was composed of members of the younger married set with a few of the younger and unmarried dukes and maids, the maids wearing gowns of colonial design and in the pastel shades, and headed by the handsome king and queen, regal and stately in their bearing, bowing graciously and charmingly greeting their subjects.

The dance music was played by Peranich's Band and the first four dances were reserved for the members of the court, after which general dancing began.

The court was composed of Mrs. John Festerling and C. J. Gordon, Mrs. Earl Buckley and Dr. B. L. Ramsey; Mrs. Leo Ford and J. R. Roland; Mrs. Alden Mauffray and Samuel Benigno; Mrs. W. J. Gex, Jr., and Robert L. Camors; Mrs. M. J. Wolfe and Dr. Louis F. Maumus; Mrs. Arthur Scalfide and J. C. Roland; Miss Minnie Ols and Milton A. Phillips; Miss Jennie di Benedetto and Sylvester Beyer; Mr. Edward J. Arceneaux and Alden Mauffray; Mrs. Effie Graham Powers and John D. Blaize; Mrs. A. B. Vassalli and Edward J. Arceneaux; P. D. Pravatia and Miss Frances Scalfide; Mrs. and Mrs. J. A. Mahaffey; Mrs. L. M. Gex and Earl Buckley; Mrs. M. A. ### BAY HIGH BAND PLAYS IN PARADES

Second Consecutive Year of Participation For Band in New Orleans Carnival

The Bay High Band, conducted by Mr. W. C. Morgan, participated in the annual New Orleans Mardi Gras festivities by playing and marching in three of the largest Carnival parades, which began Thursday night, February 1.

This is the second consecutive year the band was invited and participated in the annual Carnival parades. The Bay High Band was one of the three bands chosen to march this year, the other two bands included the Tulane Band of Tulane University and the Baton Rouge High Band, of Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

On Thursday night, February 1, the band marched in the Momus Parade, on Monday night, February 5, they marched in the Proteus Parade and on Mardi Gras night in the spectacular Comus Parade. Their performance this year proved to have surpassed that of last year's.

The sixty-piece band, with the exception of five members, who graduated last year, is composed of practically the same members as last year, with the addition of several new members who have belonged to the band since the beginning of the 1939-40 season. The band, whose appearance and playing ability made an impression on all who witnessed them, look forward annually to participating in the New Orleans Mardi Gras festivities and feel it an honor to be a member of the band which is one of the three bands to be asked to play in three different Carnival Parades.

Last year the money which was obtained for playing in the parades was used as a payment on the band uniforms. The money obtained this year will make up a large part of the necessary sum to take care of the band, which will participate in the Annual State Band Contest held in Jackson, Mississippi during the spring.

Gulf Coast Fox Hunters Entertained at Barbucue At Ed Orte's Home.

One of the large and most delightful events given for members of the Gulf Coast Fox Hunters Association was the fish fry and barbecue given by Mr. Ed Orte at his attractive home in Clermont Harbor.

Large quantities of pork had been barbecued and an enormous catch of choice and extremely large red fish were prepared for the visitors who expressed great delight over these choice and excellently prepared dishes. The fish and meat were served with the necessary accompaniments and every member of the association attending the meeting accepted Mr. Orte's invitation and were loud in their praise of the excellent treat, many of them coming from sections in the interior where large fish and here are rare treats. The event was considered the highlight of the entertainment given for the fox-hunters.

BILL SEEKS STATE TAX ON LIQUOR

Senator Knox Introduces Measure in Legislature—Yield of $500,000 Seen.

A bill to force liquor dealers in legally dry Mississippi to pay state tax was introduced in the State senate Monday at Jackson. Its author, Senator Rush Knox of Houston, estimated the measure would yield $500,000 a year.

The bill would add a section to the dry law providing a one to five year penitentiary sentence if the state penalty taxes are not delivered within ten days after the $500 federal internal revenue tax is paid.

Senator Knox said there are about 2000 liquor dealers in the state who have paid the federal levy "as protection against government prosecution."

An existing state statute provides that the state tax collector may impose a penalty tax of $500 for state, county and municipality, totaling $1,500, in addition to this federal fee.

Knox said his bill would relieve the state collector from the necessity of suing for these fees by making it a felony if the dealer did not appear for voluntary payment.

The state penalty is termed a "tax" in the lawbooks and not a fine. In addition, each proven dealer is liable to a jail sentence, but Knox said violators rarely are jailed.

The bill was referred to the temperance committee, which already is considering a measure to provide for a liquor referendum.

Its author, Senator W. B. Roberts of Rosedale, today issued an appeal for public support for the reason that six years have elapsed since the Mississippi electorate last had a chance to express itself on the subject.

"In my opinion we should all join in having a 'chance' to get the sentiment of the people of the state and settle the matter for another term of years," he said.

Sale of liquor under a strict privilege tax would return the state $1,000,000 a year, he said enough to raise the average old age pension from $7.50 to $15.

AGED LADY VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Nancy Michel, 72, Dies Sunday Night — Buried Wednesday.

A victim of bronchial pneumonia, Mrs. Nancy Lindsey Walker Michel, widow of Charles Michel, native of Baldwin, Illinois, aged 72 years, died at her home at 10:45 o'clock, Sunday night, February 4, 1940.

Mrs. Michel resided in an apartment with Miss Edith Ladrner, Hancock, between Sycamore and Keller streets where she was known and tenderly cared for by neighbors and other friends.

Years ago she moved to Bay St. Louis with her husband, who had been retired by one of the departments of the city of New Orleans that he had well and long served. A few years later he died and the brave little widow was left alone. She had been twice married, first to Thomas Walker, then to Mr. Michel who died in 1934.

But not without kin. One niece, Miss Hazel Irwin, who resides in Los Angeles, California, Charles Michel, a step-son, also survives. And the funeral was delayed awaiting her arrival from the far-off Pacific coast. Accordingly, Miss Irwin flew and arrived in ample time Wednesday morning—to be present at the last rites that afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Burial ceremony was at Cedar Rest cemetery, where the newly-made mound was marked with wreaths and garlands of bright flowers. Here was the resting place—the finality of all that was human.

The Rev. Andrew J. Boyles, pastor Main Street Methodist church, conducted the last ceremony of his faith. A number of mourners assembled and in silence paid tribute to a little woman who had led a long and useful life, and who had battled the world and courageously to the end.

Mrs. Michel was well read, versed and accomplished to a deep appreciation of the better things and finer side of life.

The remains were laid out at Fahey Funeral Home, from which place the funeral took place, with Fahey mortuary service in charge. Pallbearers serving were: Charles Genin, Ed. Strong, Jack Chevis, Edward Jones, William Tomasich.

ADVERTISEMENTS IN STATE'S FREE TEXTBOOKS ASKED.

A bill to finance Mississippi's free textbooks in part by advertising such products as breakfast foods, chewing gum, and toothpaste on flying leaves of the "readin", "ritin", and "rithmetick" texts was introduced in the house of representatives Monday.

The author, Rep. George W. Howell, Jr., of Monroe county, estimated $100,000 could be raised from advertising, or about 10 per cent of the total million dollar outlay anticipated under the MacCoy-Owens free textbook bill now before senate committee.

The commission would be authorized to advertise for competitive bids for the advertising which would be printed on the required number of fly-leaves and on the inside covers.

The commission would accept only products "that will be in keeping with the spirit of the schools in promoting the child physically, mentally and morally."

Similar laws have been passed by other southern states.

SUBLIME CHARACTER PASSES ON.

THE passing of Mrs. Ethel Osoinach Ballard, wife of Harlow G. Ballard, at her home in San Mateo, fifty miles south of San Francisco, California, on Thursday morning of last week, removes from this transitory vale of life, one whose life was essentially typical of all that combines the sublime character of a young and devoted wife and mother.

Woman has no nobler calling than that of wife and mother, a double calling, one with the most exacting demands requiring constant fulfillment and ceaseless solicitation. Of these attributes, outlined in the duties of wife and mother, the deceased well fulfilled the calling which heaven recognizes and blesses. Her being was broad and happy, for while she fulfilled well her role in life, it was not alone along the narrow groove too many confine their lives—shutting out the sweetness of life selfishly for their own and nothing for others.

Mrs. Ballard lived the bright, sunshiny side of life—that all who may come might bask in the even tenor of her sweet way; enjoy her constant solicitation for the comfort, and happiness of others.

Ethel Osoinach Ballard was born in Bay St. Louis, the last of a family of children that blessed the home of the late John Osoinach and his wife Lou Meek Osoinach. She was educated in Bay St. Louis and completing her studies here, resided a while with her aunts, the Misses Zelida and Belle Osoinach in New Orleans. It was here she met Mr. Ballard and the serious phase of life began at a comparative early age.

A young woman of charm, gifted with a spirit of ever present cordiality, she was of a friendly type, a personality one loved to remember. And such character one will always cherish, long after the echoes of the message announcing her passing will have been wafted away on the wings of time.

To Mrs. Osoinach, mother, to Mrs. Lucille Porter and Mrs. Cleo Anderson, sisters, and Messrs Henry W., Clarence O., and J. A. Osoinach, brothers, we can well feel for them. Even though she is not dead, but her spirit has only passed on, and that her memory lives enshrined in the hearts and minds of all who knew her, we will miss her in the flesh. In recollection, however, she will live forever, like in the everlasting realms of life beyond.

GOOD SERVICE PAYS.

THE modern small town business man has many problems, but if he keeps his feet on the ground and uses his head there is no reason why he should not hold his own with any and all competition," says the Chieftain, of Enterprise, Oregon. "He has the means at hand to give personalized service, sell good merchandise at fair prices and above all be a friend of his customers."

The fact is that the small town business man has demonstrated beyond argument his ability to do just that. Gone is the day when the intelligent independent merchant, for instance, spent most of his time beating his breast and demanding that his chain store competitors be hamstrung with every device of legislation and class taxation. The modern independent goes to work in the face of competition, exerts himself still more to please his trade—and the customers keep right on coming in. The small merchant, no less than the big one, has ideas and vision—and the small merchant has been responsible for many innovations which have helped build and hold business.

It is to the credit of the American business man that he has always adjusted himself to the changing times. But it is not surprising. The biggest businesses this country knows, and especially those in the food and merchandising field, have grown from little businesses. About the only capital most of their founders had at the beginning was intelligence, ideas, and a willingness to work. The public pays well those who serve it well. And service is the stepping stone of all progress.

WHAT CHILDREN NEED.

THE White House Conference on Children in a Democracy estimates that half of the nation's children belong to families unable to live recently and declares that the child's greatest need is a real job at real wages for his father and work opportunities for himself when he grows up.

The conclusions will be derided, of course, by the he-men who profess great admiration for the "American way" and laud the old-fashioned virtues of self-reliance and individual initiative. The rugged individuals will advocate teaching the child to practice the virtues that earned success in the past and, being comfortable themselves, will be willing to sit quietly until the growing generation solves its problem.

There was a time in the United States, if we can believe what we are taught, when individuals could expect reasonable opportunities for advancement through intelligent application and some hard perseverance. With millions of older men unemployed and workers outnumbering available jobs, the young man of today faces a different condition. The class-book mottoes will not feed him or enable him to feed himself.

Mardi Gras has come and gone and New Orleans once more has done herself proud entertaining perhaps the largest crowd of visitors within her gates for Carnival season. The festivities were on a lavish scale. New Orleans' proverbial hospitality did not fail and it is well that the many from over the country gathered within the city and suburbs and joined in the city's greatest event of the year, for it was well worth while.

No greater nor more outstanding road improvement in the State than building of the double boulevard along the Mississippi Coast, now in progress, has ever meant more for any one section than this will for our coast. The work is along vast and permanent lines and is to be continued from Henderson Point on thru to East end of Biloxi. No where in the country will a similar improvement be noted. Watch the Mississippi Coast grow. This colossal road improvement will forever serve as a monument to the enterprise of Governor White's administration and the Mississippi Highway Commission.

January 30 the House of Representatives passed the bill providing for free text books for Mississippi Children by a vote of 118 to 15. The bill now goes to the Senate for action.

Senator W. B. Roberts has introduced Senate Bill No. 87 to impose a tax on the privilege of selling intoxicating liquors and providing for an election throughout the state as a condition that the act shall become effective.

H. B. No. 134 would require all public schools in the state to display the Mississippi State Flag.

H. B. No. 136 would increase the amount of old age assistance maximum in the state from $15 to $30 per month.

H. B. No. 139 seeks to regulate the sale of eggs, by classifying eggs, by defining the term dealer; require filing of invoices by dealers; impose an inspection fee; authorize the commissioner of agriculture to promulgate grades and standards for eggs. The bills would require every case or part of a case of eggs to bear a printed label 7 x 7 inches, with the name of the packer, with the class, grade and standard of the eggs. It further provides that all eggs offered for sale by a dealer must have a placard conspicuously placed with the information as to whether they are cold storage, and what state they are from, whether they are "shipped" eggs, and from what state; whether Mississippi eggs; whether unclassified eggs, and state of origin; whether "processed" eggs and state of origin, and giving grade and standard of the eggs. The law provides a fee of 4c on each 30 dozen cases of eggs to be collected by the Department of Agriculture. The bill provides a minimum penalty of 90 days in jail or a fine of $50.00.

H. B. No. 151 would reduce the income tax exemption of each citizen of Mississippi from $2500 for married persons to $2300; and of Single Persons from $1000 to $900. Credit for dependents under the bill would be reduced from $400 to $100. The taxable rate would begin at 3 per cent on the first $500 of taxable income and increase 1 per cent on each $500 until a maximum of 10 per cent was reached on all taxable income of $3500 or more.

H. B. No. 170 seeks to protect state-owned lands from injury due to oil and refuse.

H. B. No. 171 would prevent pollution of fresh water in the state in connection with oil operations.

S. B. 91 seeks to make atheists and advocates of forcible overthrow of government ineligible to teach in state schools.

The adjutant general's report for the past biennium shows that Mississippi fourteen satisfactory armories in use, has three under construction and 5 planned. The Mississippi National Guard is composed of 191 officers and 2,730 enlisted men.

H. B. No. 150 would create a commission to be known as Pure Food and Drug Commission.

The daily production of crude oil in Mississippi for the week ending January 27th was 4,600. Texas is the largest oil producing state in the United States.

One of the most kindly acts of the recent severe cold spell in Mississippi was that performed by the Merchants Company, of Hattiesburg and Jackson, when that corporation distributed free 10,000 pounds of feed for the starving birds of the state. D. P. Cameron, of Hattiesburg, is president, and W. W. Wright is vice-president of this corporation.

Export licenses to arms purchasers doubled in a year.

Hollywood Notes.

IT seems that we're in for a cycle of historical pictures if what we hear is true. A number are already in production, including Cecil B. De Mille's "Northwest Police," which is based on Canada's "Civil War"—the riot rebellion of 1865, D. W. Griffith's "1,000,000 B.C.," Errol Flynn's "Virginia City," a saga of an old Nevada gold town.

Biographies will also be the subject of a number of films including two based on the life of Edison, in which Mickey Rooney and Spencer Tracy have the leads, one on the life of John Paul Jones, Alfred Nobel, Beethoven, Simon Bolivar, Edgar Allen Poe, Andrew Jackson, Davy Crockett and Dr. W. T. G. Morton, the Boston dentist who is credited with the discovery of ether as an anesthetic.

It's a romantic team they're planning for "Waterloo Bridge," Robert E. Sherwood's novel. Robert Taylor will be co-starred with Vivien Leigh. While they were together in "A Yank at Oxford," fans are sure to take more notice of Miss Leigh since her role as Scarlett O'Hara.

So enthusiastic was the reception accorded the team of George Brent and Merle Oberon in "We Shall Meet Again," that they are to be together again in the screen version of Margaret Kennedy's "The Constant Nymph."

Although she had been looking forward to a role in "Susan and God," Greer Garson has been shifted to "Pride and Prejudice," which had been tentatively assigned to Norma Shearer. Miss Garson will have as her leading man, however, Laurence Olivier, who made such a hit in "Wuthering Heights."

After completing work on his current production, "Northwest Mounted Police," which is being made in technicolor, Cecil B. De Mille plans to produce a religious picture, "Queen of Queens," based on the life of Mary of Nazareth.

Jack Holt recently celebrated the beginning of his twenty-fourth year as a movie star. His stellar career began when he appeared in "America" twenty-three years ago.

Loretta Young and Gloria Jean, the youngster who made a hit in "The Underpup," will be co-starred in "Our City," an original story by Grover Jones.

HITLER PROMISES WAR.

HERR Hitler promises Great Britain and France the war they have saked for.

He still poses as a seeker of peace. This pose is repeated after the recent revelation of the outrages in Poland and Czechoslovakia, where thousands of helpless people have been impressed into labor service and a number are reported to have been slain.

Hitler's public attitudes seem so unreasonable on the basis of his brutality to other peoples that one must accept the conclusion that nobody counts in his thinking except Germans, or that he is a hopeless lunatic. In either event, he is a dangerous man to be running at large with a war machine as formidable as that of Germany.

SO MANY OF US WOULD, IF—

THE world is heavily populated with individuals who would do great things if they had fine positions, or plenty of money.

The world has very few men and women who are striving to do little things in life in a manner that befits the doing the greater things. There is much talk, for example, about the value of family life. What do the average father and mother, in this day, do for the benefit of family life? For that matter, what contribution does the young son, or the young daughter, feel impelled to make to the happy family circle that, in too many instances, is but a theory?

NEEDS MORE "KISSING ROOM."

HERE'S News:

The village of Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., has requested the New York Central Railroad to provide more "kissing room" at its station!

It seems that commuters, departing for their work and arriving home in the afternoon, take such time in "fond farewells" that other commuters cannot find room under the shed. Consequently, the village says there must be more shed room or the commuters will have to kiss their wives at home.

A FUTURE SANTA CLAUS.

LAST December, the American people gave themselves a magnificent "Christmas present."

The value of the present is $567,212,000. That is the amount of ordinary life insurance bought in the last month of 1939.

Those millions will make possible thousands of "Merry Christmases" in the future. They will make all the other days of the year happier for a legion of families. That's a "Christmas gift" worth talking about.

"WHAT IT TAKES."

The Honorable Clark Gable seems to have what it takes at the box-office.

This screen artist has just signed a contract that calls for $5,000 a week, runs for seven years and gradually works up to a figure that nets the he-man star something more than $2,000,000.

Finland is the world-surprise number one, with all rights reserved, including the Scandinavian.

If there is anybody who isn't satisfied with the Winter because he wants more cold weather, we would like to see the guy.

The whole truth about what Japanese soldiers have done in China would shock a world accustomed to brutality.

People who pay money for The Sea Coast Echo should consider it their newspaper; suggestions always welcomed and appreciated.

From the Associated Press at New York comes the announcement that the Mac Millan Company, publishers, announce that it is ordered a third printing of 350,000 copies of the motion picture edition of "Gone With the Wind" six weeks after its publication in Atlanta and New York. This brought to 2,843,263 the number of copies of all editions printed in this country.

Unjustly Accused, BEER*Vindicated ITSELF!

Rowdy places usually attempt to mask law-violations behind a State permit to sell legal beer—a wholesome, natural beverage. When these places get out of hand, a certain section of the public rightfully indignant—wrongfully assumes that legal beer is responsible.

That happened recently in Lowndes and Clay Counties. The Mississippi beer industry swung into action at once with its "clean up or close up" program, in the interests of the industry and for the benefit of the citizens of these two counties.

Acting under instructions of State Director William W. Pierce of the Brewers and Mississippi Beer Distributors Committee, beer distributors refused to sell beer to NINE places being conducted in a manner detrimental to the industry and the public. Praiseworthy follow-up action by Sheriff William J. Propst and T. G. Saul put "closed" signs on the doors of six of these places, and trouble-making hangers-on started hitch-hiking out of the State.

Citizens, who have witnessed the proof that this State's beer industry is sincerely on the side of law and order and respectability, know and welcome the permanency and effectiveness of beer's "clean-up or close up" action.

Mississippians can look forward to the future with assurance that the Brewers and Mississippi Beer Distributors Committee, representing the State's beer industry, is solidly aligned with the agencies of law and decency.

Mississippi can be proud of 11,000 Mississippians who enjoy honest jobs in a reputable, valuable industry which provides the State and its sub-divisions with more than $1,000,000 annually in tax revenue.

EDITH CHEVIS,
Administratrix.FINEST STARS IN FILDOM APPEAR WITH "MR. SMITH"*Capra's New Romantic Comedy is Filled With Stellar Screen Figures.

Recently, nine major Hollywood companies virtually halted all production, or re-arranged their schedules so as to "shoot around" some of Hollywood's most important stars. Ordinarily, an "all-star" cast means a cast which includes one, two or sometimes three stars; the other players are well-known "bit" or character actors. But when Frank Capra makes a picture, his "all-star" cast is just that. And Frank Capra's production of Columbia's stirring "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" which will be at the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday, required the services of a Hollywood Who's Who, somewhat to the embarrassment of Hollywood's studio managers.

"Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," co-starring Jean Arthur and James Stewart, is a tour de force in the field of comedy drama, telling the story of a typical small-town youth who is suddenly, surprisingly appointed to the United States Senate. Miss Arthur is expertly cast as the senatorial secretary who first laughs at Stewart—"Mr. Smith"—then, learning to love him, helps him meet the dramatic consequences of his going to the capital.

Miss Arthur and Stewart alone would be an "all-star cast" as well as a guarantee of exciting romantic entertainment to those who remember their last picture together, "You Can't Take It With You," also created by Capra. Yet, in other important roles Hollywood's master director cast the following galaxy of stars:

Edward Arnold, as a political boss; Thomas Mitchell, Washington correspondent; Claude Rains, U. S. Senator; Guy Kibbee, a state governor; Ruth Donnelly, Kibbee's wife; Eugene Pallette, a political hircing; Beulah Bondi, Stewart's mother; Astrid Allwyn, Rains' daughter; H. B. Warner, Grant Mitchell, Porter Hall and Pierre Watkin, U. S. Senators; and Harry Carey, a Vice President of the United States.

Joan Crawford, who is to have the lead in "Susan and God," is studying stage "stills" of the play during its run on Broadway and also a movie of the Broadway production. Frederic March, who made his last film in 1938, will stage a Hollywood comeback as the leading man opposite her.

WOMAN DIES AS FLAMES SWEEP HOME ON COAST.*Socialite Victim in Tragedy; Husband, Son Burned.

Mrs. Alice Richardson LeLong 43, prominent socially in New Orleans, perished in her burning home near Pass Christian, Sunday in a tragic attempt to rescue a 13-year-old son who had already been pulled to safety by an older brother.

Her husband, Charles Andrew LeLong, 57, and the son she sought to rescue, Rivers, 13, were seriously burned. Another son and two daughters escaped uninjured.

All awoke to find their home in flames, and made their way out safely.

Rivers re-entered the house to obtain clothing and his older brother DuBose, 17, went in to bring him out. Mrs. LeLong followed when they failed to return immediately. She was apparently overcome by smoke and her body was not recovered until the fire had burned itself out. DuBose, meanwhile had dragged out his younger brother, unaware that his mother was trapped inside.

The elder LeLong was taken to a New Orleans hospital, where physicians feared for his eyesight. Rivers LeLong was burned less severely about the face.

A third son, Marion, is a student at the University of Mississippi.

Dormitory Burns At State Teachers College.

Mississippi Hall, a sixty-five room girls' dormitory at State Teachers' College, in Hattiesburg, recently renamed Mississippi Southern College, was heavily damaged Friday afternoon by fire which the college authorities said originated in defective wiring in an abandoned elevator shaft.

Dr. J. B. George, president of the college, estimated the damage at $15,000 to $20,000. He said the building, a three-story brick structure, has a present value of $140,000, and was erected in 1915. Dr. George said no insurance was carried on the building by the state government.

One hundred and five persons occupied the building, five of the number being teachers. The one hundred students will be billeted in Forrest County Hall and Hattiesburg Hall, two other girls' dormitories.

—Mrs. Roland Weston, who suffered severe injuries to her back from a fall at her home some weeks ago, was permitted to leave Touros Infirmary on Saturday and return to her home here to recuperate.

—The Smart Shoe Store, located on the beach front south of the local movie theater, has discontinued business and closed its doors. The stock was moved by the owner to another shoe store located elsewhere on the Coast, owned by the same firm.

—Dr. J. A. Evans, representing the Mississippi Dental Association, left today (Friday) for Chicago to attend the annual meeting of the National State Dental Officers Association and the Chicago Dental Society.

—Mrs. Carrie Nolan, who has been ill the past two weeks, has recovered and resumed her work at the Nolan Beauty Shop Wednesday, and will be glad to see her friends and all other patrons.

—Friends of Charles A. Breath, Sr., will learn with interest of his continued improvement at Touros Infirmary, New Orleans, where he has been the past three weeks. It is planned he will be able to be removed to his Bay St. Louis home, on North Beach Sunday.

—Peck Bopp, son of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Francis J. Bopp had as his guests at his home here two of his classmates at Mississippi State College, George Budde, of Long Island, New York, and Charles Henry, of Brookhaven. On Monday Mrs. Bopp and daughter, Rita, drove in to New Orleans, with the entire party and enjoyed the Carnival as the guests of her sister, Mrs. W. J. Starnes.

—On Saturday night at Grey Castle, Pass Christian annual Carnival Ball was held and the following young men from Bay St. Louis took part in the court, acting as dukes: Jack Roehl, James Bryan and Edward Arceneaux, Jr. Also attending the ball were: Thomas Klienpeter, Keith Hardy and Peter Juden.

—Supervisor John B. Wheat has practically fully recovered from an extended illness of the flu at his home in the country, and is out again mingling with the masses. Our good friend had quite a time with this most unthinkable ailment, that seems to attack all of one's faculties.

—Mrs. John Osinach arrived by way of New Orleans Wednesday afternoon from San Mateo, California, traveling by plane, at which place she spent the past several months with her daughter, the late Mrs. Ballard. Mrs. Osinach is now at home with the family of her daughter, Mrs. P. E. Porter.

—T. F. Monti, Jr., has mastered the flood of pain and general discomfort that comes with the advent of that formidable foe, flu, so prevalent the past two or three weeks. He was able to venture out Wednesday for the first time—weak as the proverbial cat. But is now rapidly recuperating and will soon be his own usual self.

—Considerable progress is noted in the construction of the dwelling in Breath Court by C. A. Breath, Jr., owner, to be occupied in March by Mr. and Mrs. Cliff C. Ferrell. Distinctively modern and attractive, the new dwelling attracts admiration and the attention of the general public. The plan is a reproduction from one of the current magazines.

—Forming a party motoring to New Orleans on last Saturday where they enjoyed dinner en route at one of the fashionable restaurants and afterwards viewing the motion picture "Gone With the Wind" in compliment to Mr. John McDonald's birthday were Miss Mary Kittrell, Miss Dorothy Overall, student at Gulf Park College, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McDonald and John McDonald.

—Mr. and Mrs. John A. Green and daughter, Miss Margaret Green, attended the funeral on Wednesday evening in Gulfport of their relative Archie M. Smith who died suddenly at his home in Hattiesburg. Mr. Smith was also the brother of Mrs. Mary Van Cloostere, of Long Beach, prominent in work of the National Council of Catholic Women.

—Jessie W. Gray, president Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, fell victim to the flu and was unable to preside over Wednesday's meeting. The fact there were five members at the luncheon-meeting one might be led to infer flu was master of the situation. We regret to learn Mrs. Gray is also ill with the same unwelcome force.

—Our friend A. G. Shear who is wintering at Miami Beach, Fla., writes June is back again. And to prove what he says sends a picture of "June" clothed in what seems only a little more than a thought, sauntering along the strand looking for something she fails to see. Send us more pictures of this kind Capt. Al. We are fond of children's pictures anyway!

—The master film, "Gone With the Wind," showing in New Orleans, will enter upon its third week's showing. Many from Bay St. Louis have journeyed especially to New Orleans to view this story in color of unusual depth and beauty and are unanimous in acclaim of praise. The severest critic has failed to find a flaw, it is said. Although requiring nearly four hours to project, it is, to many, seemingly all too short.

—Pass Christian sent quite a delegation from their fair city to the Bay St. Louis Carnival ball Friday night, and right here we wish to say their presence was not only enjoyable but the gesture appreciated. Let it be said to the eternal credit of our neighbors across the Bay, they never fail to rally to any of the major benefits of calls from our city. This is a fine spirit and we note it is always manifested and backed by the better class of men and women.

—Mr. Ed P. Ortte is receiving many compliments on the occasion of the barbecue entertainment given at his premises at Clermont Harbor Friday afternoon when the fox hunters and their party were guests of honor. The "big feed" was expeditiously handled, with several hundred who suffered no waits and no inconveniences. In all, the affair was a success and easily one of the high spots of the four-day program. Mr. Ortte was untiring and gave liberally of his well-known energy and diligent attention which served to advantage.

WITH THE GARDENS.

Most persons are wondering now—days in their palm trees are frozen, are their sakuma trees killed and are their azaleas hurt by the terrible cold.

Fortunately most plants and trees had been somewhat prepared for the unusually cold spell and freeze by the cold weather before and the damage done was lessened and so much less than if the freeze had come after a spell of mild weather. Also we will have to be guided by the weather to follow, altho a good pruning is in order immediately.

Pruning will surely help injured trees and plants. When cutting into the bark, if a blackened, browned or otherwise discolored layer is found, that particular limb should be cut off well below the injury, or to the ground if necessary. Paint where cut with wax or ordinary asphaltic tarry roofing paint, or an application of shellac to the part before applying the paint will prevent injury.

As soon as danger of freeze has passed, feed injured plants to induce growth. The kind of plant and its age will determine kind and amount of fertilizer to use. For most plants, it will be found that any good fertilizer of about 4-8-4 analysis will be fine. Also it will be found that with many trees and plants, the addition of vitamins will produce almost marvelous results in stimulating growth.

For bedding plants and annuals, don't wait on the weather. Put out new seeds or new plants at once. Make the plants beds rich and be sure the soil is thoroughly pulverized and when the seeds or plants are up, use Vitamin B1.

Some of your tenderer varieties of camellia japonica and azaleas may have been killed. Blooms, of course, could not be expected to stand such low temperatures, although tight buds may be all right.
